Red Guns Take Heavy Toll Of U.S. Warplanes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air attacks on Soviet-built missile sites in North Viet Nam have been sharply stepped up, but the Reds' conventional anti-aircraft guns have taken the heaviest toll of attacking American planes.

Air Force and Navy fighters have destroyed or damaged seven surface-to-air installations in the past week and 10 since the beginning of the month. Only three SAM sites were hit between the end of July and November.

Flak Concentrated

Seven planes, including rescue aircraft, were lost in attacks on missile installations last weekend, but only one was downed by a missile. The others were hit by conventional ground fire.

"It's a risky business," said a U.S. military spokesman. "The concentration of flak aimed at our planes is as heavy as, if not heavier than, any in World War II."

Missiles are one of the Communists' most potentially dangerous weapons, but their success seems to have been relatively limited. Of the more than 110 planes lost since U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam began, only seven are known to have been shot down by missiles.

Much of the credit is due the American pilots who have coped from the beginning with the missile threat. They have developed tactics to minimize the danger from the SAMs.

Pilots returning from raids against missile installations have reported being fired on by the SAMs. But some of the assaults have been carried out with great speed — one took only 90 seconds. Pilots say the Communists may not have had time to launch the complex procedures with any degree of accuracy.

On the other hand, all the SAM installations are heavily protected by anti-aircraft weapons and anti-aircraft guns which can produce withering fire in seconds.

All except two of the 13 sites hit so far were mobile installations. These can be erected and dismantled within a day.

Informal sources have said that as many as 30 fixed SAM installations ring the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong. There are indications that the number of portable facilities is much higher and that these are spread throughout much of the country.

Despite dangers involved in strikes against missile facilities, the United States has begun a concerted campaign to destroy as many of the sites as its pilots can find.

"There are plenty up there, so we expect to be busy for some time," said one military source.

Autos Kill 10 Deer In 4 Days

HOLLAND (AP) — Ten deer were killed by autos during a four-day period in Ottawa County this week.

One accident resulted in minor injuries to eight persons. They were injured when an auto piled into a number of cars parked along a road Monday night. Drivers of the cars had stopped to assist a motorist who struck a deer.

Tractor Tip Fatal

KINGSLEY (AP) — Emil Ergan Sr., 72, of Kingsley, was crushed to death Wednesday under a tractor which overturned in a logging mishap. Grand Traverse County sheriff's men said he had been working in a woods tract owned by his son, Emil Jr., who found the body.

Holiday Helps New York Restore Normal Power

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's populous Northeast struggled today to return to normal as government agencies sought an answer to the paralyzing power failure.

Businesses and transportation facilities, crippled by the 10-hour blackout that spread across seven states and into Canada Tuesday night, hopefully looked to near normal operations today.

Power conservation is being observed in New York City, hardest hit by the massive technological breakdown. Full power is not expected to be restored for several days.

Cause Still Unknown

The Veterans Day holiday is contributing to the return to normal. Schools, government facilities, banks and some businesses are closed today, granting a day's grace to New York's heavily taxed transit operations.

The closed facilities also will require far less power.

Cause of the historic breakdown remains as dark as the blackout itself, but state and federal agencies are making intensive investigations.

James A. Lundy, chairman of the New York Public Service Commission, said he was confident the reason for the failure will be uncovered. It apparently originated in Upstate New York.

Upstream in the minds of government and industry leaders is the prevention of a recurrence.

The pains Wednesday were "more prolonged and of longer duration" than the mild attack of angina pectoris, or heart pains, which occurred just after midnight Monday night, doctors said.

Announcement of the sudden reversal in the condition of the 75-year-old five-star general came about an hour after the doctors had said he was making a good recovery and might be playing golf again in two weeks.

Late Wednesday night, Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, Ft. Gordon press officer, said Eisenhower had been "comfortable since 6 p.m."

But he wouldn't say whether this meant that Eisenhower was completely out of pain or there had been any solid improvement in his condition.

Earlier Wednesday, it was announced that the former president would be flown to Washington Friday to enter Walter Reed Army Hospital for the remainder of his two weeks convalescence.

However, slightly over an hour later, Hitchcock told reporters: "While the general had a fine morning, this afternoon he had a return of his chest discomfort. Plans for his departure for Walter Reed have been held in abeyance."

Foreign Affairs Review Is Held At LBJ Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson called his top military and diplomatic advisers to the LBJ Ranch today for his first major foreign affairs review since his Oct. 8 surgery.

Summoned for the day-long conference were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and McGeorge Bundy, Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs.

Officials said topics would include operations in Viet Nam, the Nov. 17 conference of hemisphere foreign ministers in Rio de Janeiro and the Dec. 6-8 American visit of West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Johnson spent a quiet, recuperative day Wednesday after staying up late Tuesday to get reports on the northeast power failure.

Joseph Laitin, acting press secretary, announced that Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission, director of the Johnson-ordered inquiry into the cause of the power blackout, has agreed to remain in his post until Dec. 31. Swidler, whose term on the FPC expired last June 22, had planned to enter private law practice in Washington next week.

Laitin said Swidler's extended tenure had nothing to do with the power failure—that Johnson had asked him to stay before the blackout hit the Northeast.

Ford, a worker for Huron Portland Cement Co., entered the silo to remove clogged cement which blocked a port hole. He was buried up to his neck by a sudden avalanche.

Planks were shoved into the port hole, the only entrance to the silo on the Maumee riverbank. Rescuers then proceeded to shovel away the cement and at one time used vacuum cleaners to pull it out.

A rope was tied to Ford, conscious throughout the ordeal, who stubbornly resisted medical treatment.

Ford, trapped from mid-afternoon, was freed just before 8 p. m.

He was reported in fair condition.

Harlo Harron, 66, former mayor of Alpena Dies

ALPENA (AP) — Former Alpena mayor and longtime civic leader Harlo Harron died in Alpena Hospital Wednesday night following a long illness. He was 66.

Harron served as mayor from 1933 to 1963, when he was defeated by Walter W. Weinkauf, current mayor. He was active in the Alpena Rotary Club and Boys' Club.

He is survived by his widow, Mary, one son and one daughter.

Sen. Fulbright In Bad With White House?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's approval of a European-Asiatic factfinding tour by Sen. Mike Mansfield has raised new speculation over White House relations with Sen. J. W. Fulbright.

While Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, and four colleagues are assessing relations with European allies and probing conditions in Asia, Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the Foreign Relations Committee, is scheduled to attend a minor conference in New Zealand.

Fulbright has contended that the Johnson administration over-reacted when it intervened militarily in the Dominican Republic. He has suggested a new and longer pause in North Viet Nam bombings to encourage the Communists there to negotiate. The White House has said this would not do any good.

Fulbright heads a group scheduled to attend a meeting of British Commonwealth parliamentarians in Wellington, New Zealand, the first week of December. While this may furnish valuable contacts, it seems unlikely to produce any world-stirring pronouncements.

The freeze that seems to have developed in relations between the President and Fulbright after the latter's Sept. 15 criticism of the Dominican course shows no signs of breaking. Senatorial colleagues said Fulbright wrote Johnson a note while the President was in the hospital for his gall bladder operation and got back an acknowledgment from a staff member.

It was not exactly clear how the Mansfield trip materialized. But it was known that it was not authorized through the Foreign Relations Committee and that Fulbright was surprised by the announcement.

Mansfield has been critical of some aspects of Johnson's Viet Nam policy. But he has supported the President's course despite his original opposition to escalation of the war.

Union Will Give Pediatric Clinic To S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union announced Wednesday night it will ship a fully equipped pediatric clinic along with three tons of food and medical supplies to trade unionists in South Viet Nam.

Walter Reuther, president of the Detroit-based union, made the announcement here and said the value of the clinic and equipment was estimated at $250,000.

It will be flown to South Viet Nam within a week, the announcement said.

Reuther made the announcement after a meeting with a delegation of South Viet Nam union officials.

Nation Pauses For Tribute To Fighting Men

By The Associated Press

Veterans Day takes on added significance today as Americans take time to tell their fighting men in Viet Nam, "We're behind you."

In Main Street parades, on speaking platforms, in blood drives and among the long rows of white crosses in military cemeteries, the nation pauses to remember, reflect and rededicate.

To the people of Audubon, Iowa, the war in Viet Nam suddenly comes close to home today. Donald D. Haskins, 22, a sailor fatally wounded at Da Nang last month, will be laid to rest.

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in Hamilton, Ohio, put on an "Operation Boost" parade supporting American involvement in Viet Nam. Marchers have been asked to bring personal items to be sent to servicemen there.

Lapel Flags Worn

Students at Alabama College at Montealto have scheduled a blood drive for U.S. troops, plus a fund raising campaign to provide a special gift for the American forces. Other activities include a flag raising ceremony and a speech by Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala.

Dave Watson, commander of the VFW post in Muscatine, Iowa, said the hope behind the town's parade is that it "will offset some of the publicity being given to the demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam." Bremer County, Iowa, veterans are calling their parade a "walk for the men in Viet Nam."

The national headquarters of the American Legion distributed 10 million lapel pin flags for "Operation Show Your Colors." Each pin comes with a card saying "Americans are serving the cause of freedom in Viet Nam. I wear my country's flag to show that I support their efforts."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey laid a wreath for President Johnson on the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac River from the nation's capital.

In prepared remarks, the vice president said: "We are in Viet Nam to keep a commitment established by international treaty. We are there because, once again in history, it must be proved to aggressors that the price of their aggression comes far too high."

"We will remain in Viet Nam until a just and lasting peace can be established there."

Can't Retreat Now

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze, speaking at a Veterans Day ceremony in Welch, W.Va., said in a prepared address that veterans "keenly understand why we will not now abandon the Republic of Viet Nam. Our veterans...entertain no doubt that we will prevail in the cause of freedom."

Nitze said American veterans have "learned in the hardest of all schools that weakness is only an invitation to attack, and that retreat can bring in its wake even more deadly dangers."

The Anchorettes, Wichita State University's Navy women's drill team, who spent the week collecting signatures in support of U.S. servicemen, lead off a Veterans Day parade in Wichita, Kan.

Wichita Mayor William Tarrant has issued a proclamation dubbed "Operation Boost," calling for a moment of silent prayer at 11 a.m. for the success and safety of U.S. military forces everywhere.

White Minority Breaks Ties With Britain

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Prime Minister Ian Smith proclaimed Rhodesia's independence from Britain today.

Defying Britain's threat of the strongest economic and political sanctions, the leader of the central African colony's white minority read his government's proclamation in a special broadcast over the Rhodesian network.

Act Called Revolt

In London, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Cabinet prepared to denounce the unilateral declaration of independence as an illegal act of revolt against the crown.

Smith and his Cabinet determined to go it alone after months of fruitless negotiations in which the British government demanded guarantees of eventual political power for the colony's 4 million Africans. Smith and his colleagues are determined to preserve rule by Rhodesia's 225,000 white settlers.

In proclaiming independence, Smith rejected last-minute appeals from both Wilson and Queen Elizabeth II. Wilson had telephoned Smith at 6 a.m. today in a final attempt to dissuade him.

Loyalty Pledged

Smith and his Cabinet sent a message to Queen Elizabeth II Wednesday pledging loyalty to the crown "whatever happens."

Some British officials in London considered this a prelude to seizure of independence. Others considered it "political brinkmanship designed to impress public opinion in Rhodesia and Britain."

The queen immediately replied with an appeal for the white leaders of the central African colony to avoid illegal acts and demonstrate their loyalty.

Aluminum Price Boosts Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three of the nation's four big aluminum producers backed down today in the face of stern Johnson administration opposition and canceled price increases the government had called inflationary.

The Aluminum Co. of America—No. 1 in the industry—called it quits Wednesday night by rescinding the increases announced Monday. Reynolds Metals followed two hours later.

Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp., third biggest, joined the procession midmorning today. That firm called the price rises "restorations" and said its action followed "similar cancellations by other major producers."

That left Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., as the one big holdout at the time.

Alcoa's decision to cancel the price increase was announced at a hastily called night press conference by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. He hailed it as "a patriotic act."

The defense secretary also said the government agreed to an immediate resumption of negotiations for the orderly disposal of a surplus of 1.4 million tons of aluminum now held in national stockpiles.

McNamara said he believed the government would be able to limit the amount of aluminum disposed of from the stockpile to less than 200,000 tons and thus "avoid disruption" of prices.

Leader In Free Speech Admits She's Communist

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Bettina Aptheker, a leader of the Free Speech Movement that disrupted the University of California Berkeley campus last December, declares she is a Communist.

In a letter to the Daily Californian, a student newspaper, she said: "I have been for a number of years, I am now, and I propose to remain a member of the Communist party of the United States."

The FSM last December staged a massive campus sit-down as a demand for increased political freedom on the campus. The night of Dec. 2-3 more than 700 persons were arrested and hauled away to jail from the administration building, Sproul Hall.

Boys, 12 and 16, Held In Killing

MUSKOGON (AP) — Joint hearings are planned by Muskegon County Probate Court for two boys accused in the Sept. 20 fatal shooting of Carl Green, a Muskegon Township grocer.

Judge Robert A. Cavanaugh said the hearings would involve mental status and juvenile jurisdiction of the boys, ages 12 and 16 years, who are held at the county youth home. Both have undergone psychiatric examination.

A few hours later Mrs. Helen Varner reported an attack by a man who also broke into the house.

In each instance the assailant ran off without stealing anything, the women told police.

Doctors said Mrs. Villenotte had been cut 40 times on her face. Mrs. Varner did not require medical treatment.

United Campaign Reaches $41,000

The Delta United Services drive has collected "a little better than $41,000" so far, according to Robert Barron, campaign chairman, and A. W. Freeman, president of the D.U.S. Board. "This figure represents about 70 per cent of our returns," Barron said.

Goal for the campaign is $63,000.

Barron said the campaign is progressing "real good," and urged that all workers turn in their receipts as soon as possible at the Delta United Services office, 904 Ludington St. The office will remain open throughout this week and next from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 to 3 p. m.

"This is the first time in a long time that the overall attitude of the community is one of whole-hearted support," Barron said. "We must be successful this year. We have to raise enough money for these agencies to be functional."

Participating agencies in the Delta United Services are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Bay Cliff Health Camp, the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic, the J. F. Kennedy School for retarded children, American Red Cross, the Salvation Army and Delta Family Services.

Barron said that all sections of the drive — industrial, professional, commercial, township, educational and residential — have been completed.

"It's a matter of tabulating the returns and getting drive workers to check in," he said. "We should know by next week pretty well where we stand on the final total."

Advisers Bring 'Know How' To JA Companies

Escanaba Junior Achievement is a continuing success because of the assistance the student industrialists receive from advisers, whose counsel is given on a volunteer basis to help further a program designed to teach young America the facts of economic life.

"The advisers are the gears that make the Junior Achievement program move," said Duane Burak, the Escanaba JA program manager.

For two hours a night, one night a week, from early October until early May, the advisers serve the 150 young people who are enrolled in three JA companies.

The advisers to the Escanaba JA represent a variety of skills, technical know-how, and accumulated experience in the field of industry.

Serve As Team

They are Ben Sandefur and Dennis Willey, who are employed in the engineering department of Harnischfeger Corp.; John Greis, inspection department, and Rune Ostlund, bleach plant of the Escanaba Division, Mead Corp.; George Miller, a department manager at the Fair Store; and Salem "Sam" Batal, an accountant for Clairmont Transfer.

The advisers serve as a team. They are available to the students from Escanaba Area Public High School and Holy Name High School who are enrolled in Escanaba Junior Achievement.

The students are selected for membership in JA shortly after school opens in the fall and at initial meetings they organize into three companies of 50 students per company. Officers are elected, a product is selected, stock in the company is sold, and production is started.

Orders for the product are taken and filled and at the end of the year the companies (just like the experience of private industry) find they have either operated efficiently and at a profit — or they are in the red.

Many Questions
Some of the advisers are "veterans" in their work with the students: Greis is now in his fifth year in volunteer work for JA, Miller and Ostlund are in their second year, Sandefur was with JA for two years in Milwaukee before he came to Escanaba with Harnischfeger Corp.

"They are likely to be consulted on all sorts of problems and asked all sorts of questions," said Burak. "Some students have never seen a band saw before, let alone operate it. There is so much for them to learn — everything from bookkeeping practices to development of sales."

One of the advisers, Sam Batal, resides in Green Bay but is employed in Escanaba by Clairmont Transfer as an accountant. He goes home on weekends.

The rewards for their devotion to Junior Achievement come to the advisers at the annual banquet in April. They and their wives are guests of honor and receive recognition for their contributions to the success of the program.

Directors elected at the meeting are Gust Asp, E. G. Bennett, Forrest Hensler, Russell Lee, E. L. Moersch and C. R. Wickman.

Other members of the Board are James Fitzharris, John L. Greene, George Rusch and H. H. Shepeck.

Beer Dealers Convene Today

Michigan Beer & Wine Wholesalers Association directors meeting in monthly session at the House of Ludington today invited members of the House Committee on Liquor Control of the Michigan Legislature to be its guests at luncheon.

The Committee is headed by Rep. Edward K. Michalski (D-Detroit) and it is in the Upper Peninsula enroute to Ironwood for one of a series of conferences on Friday on Michigan's liquor control laws. Some of the statutes in effect since 1914 and some of the state's monopoly system controls have not been changed since repeal of Prohibition in 1933 and conditions have changed. Review has been suggested both by the Liquor Control Commission and by members of the Legislature.

Senator Stanley Novak (D-Detroit) chairman of the Senate Liquor Control Committee also arrived here last night to confer with directors of the Beer & Wine Wholesalers on liquor control.

J. Ormand Foley, Lansing, executive secretary of the association said he likes to meet in the Upper Peninsula and "by coincidence" the deer hunt opens Saturday.

AS TIME SEEMS only to inch toward the start of Michigan's firearm deer seasons—Nov. 13 in the Upper Peninsula and Nov. 20 in the Lower Peninsula—visions of that trophy buck whirl through the minds of hunters. Those high hopes of tracking down the big one, or at least trying to, are all part of the excitement that will spring an estimated 575,000 or more deer hunters into action this fall. Given good hunting conditions, close to 140,000 of these sportsmen are expected to return home with a deer.

Prize Antlers 135 Years Old

A beautiful, evenly-matched, 12-point set of antlers from a deer killed in 1830 have gone into Pennsylvania's records as the third largest in state records.

With it went a highly interesting bit of early American history.

The antlers, presented for official measuring by C. R. Studholme, of Centre Hall, were removed from a deer killed by his grandfather, Arthur Young in 1830.

Young had been born in Chango County, N.Y. in 1813. Eventually the Young family moved to Pennsylvania and carved a home out of the hills near what is Smethport today.

Early in the spring of 1827 Arthur's older brother, Clinton, was required to leave home on a business trip. He told his 19-year-old brother that if he tended the trapline, he could have the proceeds of the furs taken during that period. Arthur was pleased about this since he wanted a new rifle and this looked like the way to get it.

With money earned on the trap line from the sale of otter, mink and bear pelts, Arthur journeyed to Buffalo, N.Y. and, in the fall of 1827, bought his new rifle. This was the gun he used to kill Pennsylvania's all-time, No. 3 whitetail deer.

Even at that early date the antlers must have been recognized as a fine prize, for they were carefully removed and kept intact for 135 years!

Gun collectors will be interested to know that the gun was originally a flintlock, which at some undetermined time was converted to a pill-lock.

The rifle and powder horn, along with the prize antlers, are owned by Studholme. Under Boone and Crockett scoring, the antlers racked up 1754 points.

Bang Bang Again

The deer hunt in the Upper Peninsula opens on Saturday morning as soon as there is daylight in the swamp and men in red jackets will be sitting on stumps like exotic toadstools from the St. Mary's River to the Montreal.

Every chipmunk scurrying in the leaves will make their hearts pound faster and some will die of the excitement. Others will delay their demise until they shoot a stag and drag it back to camp in a burst of physical exercise which totals up more foot pounds of energy expended than they have put out since carrying their bride over the threshold in 1943.

The deer hunt is the most exciting thing that happens in the Upper Peninsula in the year. Nothing else compares with it for numbers involved or money spent on one brief outing.

The danger adds to the zest of the sport and while it is very rare for a buck to attack a hunter, it is rather commonplace for a hunter to unlimber on another deer stalker. A man—even a shaggy one with whiskers and spots—doesn't look like a deer but of 598 fatal hunt accidents investigated by the Michigan Conservation Department 187 of the deaths resulted because men were mistaken for wildlife. Fencer being mistaken—fatally—for a red squirrel. In another on 32 of the deaths the shooters explained "I thought I heard something move."

It's said that the most hazardous parts of flight are taking off and landing. Something of the same kind applies to deer hunting, apparently, because 83 of the fatalities were caused by loading or unloading rifles.

The hunt is a bigger thing than it was even in Indian days and more fun, because we're no longer dependent upon venison for survival and can stretch our sunbly by eating a little tuna and chicken on the side. Michigan offers some of the best deer hunting in the world and the Upper Peninsula should offer the best in Michigan, but it's a little retarded hunt-wise, and under-crops the herd.

Last fall Michigan hunters killed 143,000 deer legally, the second largest kill on record. The greatest was 169,000 in 1952 when the northern Lower Peninsula had a three-day, any-deer hunt without permits.

The Upper Peninsula kill last year, the best in five years, provided a buck for one of every 5 hunters, highest success ratio since 1959.

The Conservation Department, which manages the deer herd for the hunters, says the U.P. deer kill is still only about half that in the Lower Peninsula although both regions have the same area and the same number of deer.

"The U.P. could and should have a take of deer nearly equal to the harvest in the northern Lower Peninsula," says the Department "but a lot more hunters and perhaps longer seasons are needed before it can be done. To equal the overall harvest below the Straits, they will have to take many more antlerless deer than they have been taking. The other choice is to continue to have a shocking waste of deer whenever winters are normal to severe."

The deer hunt is a social phenomenon. That the state has been able to provide public hunting for such huge numbers of hunters with no hunting lands of their own is unusual in a world picture of hunt privileges. It results from the big state and federal ownership of forest lands and from the open entry policy of our big industries which own forest lands.

Despite the difficulty of educating hunters in biology the state has provided good hunting and it seems to be moving toward a greater kill of deer and a lesser loss of deer through famine in the late winter.

Oddly, one of the things that would improve deer hunting would be for more deer hunters to hunt more. A law prohibiting pinocchio decks in hunting camps would help, but after the failure of Prohibition wine-leary of laws of denial. It might result in bootleg pinocchio, with hunters playing furtively in the swamps and the deer kill dropping drastically.

Real COs Serve

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Burning a draft card as a protest in the name of conscientious objectors is the act of a charlatan.

There is no need for a genuine conscientious objector to burn anything.

"COs" have very specific protection under the law, which says they will not be required to serve in any military role.

Private talks with clergy-men who work with conscientious objectors in key states convinces me this protection works out in practice.

There are at present about 5,000 COs working in medical COs (those who refuse any and other noncombatant jobs with the armed services at home and overseas).

A conscientious objector who feels he cannot work with the military, even as a noncombatant medical aide, serves two years with a state, religious or private service agency.

He and his local draft board work out what organization he will serve with, what job he will do and where.

There are roughly 2,500 of these nonmilitary - connected objectors now serving. About three out of four work in hospitals. Some of these are participating in medical research and experimentation projects.

Most of this objector group serves in the United States. About 200 are now overseas in Canada, Switzerland, Germany, Algeria, Bolivia, Honduras, Mexico, Congo and Southern Rhodesia.

Some work in real hot spots overseas—in Viet Nam with the International Volunteer Service, for example, and in Laos, Viet Nam and the Congo with the Mennonite Church or other religious groups. Some have died in service.

Some 885 of these objectors died.

Veterans' Day - 1965

This one day in the year is set aside to pay tribute to America's citizen-soldiers of the past and present who made many personal sacrifices large and small to serve their country. It is observed on the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which terminated World War I, the 47th anniversary this year.

Migration Studies Widened

Bird Band Is Teacher

When a canvasback duck starts life the odds are 8 to 2 that he's going to be shot by a hunter.

When a bluewing teal duck starts life he faces only 5 chances in a 100 that he'll go into a hunter's bag.

This information has been learned by bird banders.

To get more information like this to assist the state and federal governments to manage migratory game bird populations better, the Federal Fish & Wildlife Service is teaching new techniques of trapping and banding migratory birds.

Joseph Vogt of Escanaba, game biologist of the Michigan Conservation Department in the Escanaba District (Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger) has returned from a three day workshop on bird trapping and banding at Redfoot Lake, Tenn. Vogt was one of six persons from the Michigan Conservation Department to attend the school and the only person from the Upper Peninsula.

Most of the bird banding for study of migration habits in the U. P. is done at the Seney Federal Wildlife Refuge. Vogt trapped and banded 300 ducks by baiting nylon nets in Portage Marsh last summer and hopes to expand this program.

The Federal Fish & Wildlife Service points out that most banding to date has been of ducks and geese, and that there should be more banding of packsnipes, woodcock and mourning doves. These are all migratory game birds, although there is no legal shooting of doves in the north and a neglect of the game possi-

Among the new techniques shown at Redfoot Lake were methods of drumming wood ducks from their roosts at 2 a. m. to get them into traps for banding. Cannon net traps have also been developed for the taking of turkeys and geese. Use of mist nets was demonstrated for taking of birds up to woodcock and dove size. Sexing and aging of ducks and geese was taught.

There is not much bird banding in Michigan. Chief stations are at Seney, at Pointe Mouillee and Swan Creek downstate and at a new area in the Thumb.

Vogt said that many characteristics of bird populations have been learned by banding and that there is need for much more information to aid game managers.

He cited that the findings on ducks made it clear that any heavier hunting pressure on canvasbacks would threaten the species whereas the hunting for bluewing teal is not taking many of these birds and should be stepped up.

Joseph Vogt

Questions And Answers

Q—Why does the moon always present its same side toward the earth?

A—Because it rotates in exactly the same length of time as it takes to revolve about the earth.

Q—Upon whose life was the drama "L' Aiglon (The Eagle)" by Edmond Rostand based?

A—Napoleon II of France.

Q—Was Stephen Foster a southerner by birth?

A—No, he was born near Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1826.

Q—What was the real name of "Father Divine," the late great Negro evangelist?

A—George Baker.

Q—How many daily newspapers are there in the United States?

A—English language newspapers as of March 31, 1964, numbered 1,754 with a combined circulation of about 59 million copies.

Q—How far can a housefly fly?

A—It may bring germs on its body from places as far as 13 miles away.

Q—What is a dosimeter?

A—A device, worn by persons working around radioactive material, which indicates the amount (dose) of radiation to which they have been exposed.

The Doctor Says:

Surgery Only Answer

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q—I am a 60-year-old man. A recent X-ray revealed a large stone in my gall bladder. By avoiding greasy foods I have been fairly comfortable except for a continuous nagging pain at the base of my right shoulder blade. Is surgery the only cure for this? If I don't have an operation will it get worse?

A—There is no way to dissolve the stone. Some persons with proved stones in the gall bladder survive without operation but this is an unjustifiable gamble. With modern surgical techniques and antibiotics the operation is safe but postponing it greatly increases the danger of infection in the gall bladder spreading to the liver or pancreas. It also increases the danger of agonizing gallstone colic and of cancer of the gall bladder. Living without a gall bladder is no handicap but may eliminate one source of worry for you.

Q—Does X ray always show whether there are stones in the gall bladder and whether the gall bladder is diseased? Would a gall bladder X-ray show whether you have an ulcer?

Q—X rays made after you have taken the opaque dye that concentrates in the gall bladder will reveal stones if any are present. In addition to this, X rays may show that your gall bladder does not empty after a fatty meal (one type of gall bladder disease or malfunction). Other types of gall bladder disease must be found by other methods. A gall bladder X-ray will not reveal ulcers in the stomach or the duodenum, which lies just beyond the stomach.

Q—What is acute cholecistitis? Is it curable? What for?

A—Cholecistitis refers to stones in the gall bladder. I presume the "acute" refers to the gall stone colic that occurs when a stone passes through the bile duct into the intestine. The only drugs at this time would be pain killers to tide you over the worst of the attack.

Q—What diet do you recommend for gall bladder disease?

A—Most persons with gall bladder disease are overweight and should reduce. The most important consideration, both for the gall bladder disease and the weight problem, is the avoidance of fats—no chocolate, nuts, pie crust, avocados or whole milk. In almost everyone with this disease the gall bladder must eventually come out, after which a return to a liberal diet is possible. There are many advantages to not delaying this operation.

Escanaba has had another brilliant year . . . going into its final game Monday, the team has an unbeaten record, one perhaps not as imposing on paper as last year but imposing on nevertheless . . . the team has been scored on several times but that may be attributed largely to the much improved calibre of opposition . . .

Dale Gets Wig, Wins Whistles

Dear Ann Landers: Several weeks ago my boy friend, Dale, asked me if he could dress up in my clothes just for the fun of it. I thought he was joking, but when he showed me the wig he had bought for himself I knew he was serious.

When Dale dressed up and put on make-up he looked like a very pretty girl. I couldn't get over it. He said it would be a great gag to take a walk and see if any fellows made passes at us. I was so curious to find out if he could get away with it that I agreed.

I know this sounds crazy, Ann, but Dale got more whistles than I did—and he loved it.

Dale is not a homosexual. I know for sure that his sex drives are normal. He just likes to dress up like a girl for kicks. I'd like to marry Dale but this gimmick bothers me. Should I—STYMIED

Dear Sty: Dale is a transvestite. This does not mean he's homosexual but it is a deviation, nonetheless.

If you want to marry a man who enjoys wearing your clothes and getting passes from men, go ahead. But please urge him to get professional help right away.

Dear Ann Landers: Several weeks ago I gave birth to a premature child. She lived three days. My husband and I were heartbroken.

Almost every day since I came home from the hospital with empty arms I have received a gift (which is really a sales pitch) or a telephone call offering a free sample or free services for the new baby. Each letter and phone call brings added sorrow.

Birth and death are both a matter of public record. Why don't these companies check before sending a gift or making a telephone call inquiring about photographs or books for a child who didn't live?

Please publish this. It could do a world of good.—MRS. C. Dear Mrs. C: I'm with you. The outfits that make all those phone calls to get new customers should be able to make a few more phone calls to the hospitals and determine whether the baby lived to go home.

Dear Ann Landers: Thanks a lot for taking our side against Old Crazy Bones who knocked the rock sure out music is different from the music our parents danced to, but almost everything else has changed so why should anyone expect the music and dances to be the same?

My brother and I had a long discussion with our parents about this. They are old, like you—between 45 and 50. We asked what songs they used to sing and dance to. Here are some titles—and I don't know of any today that are as goofy: "I Scream, You Scream, We All Scream for Ice Cream"; "The Music Goes Round and Round and It Comes Out Here"; "Does the Spearmint Leaf It's Flavor on the Bedpost Overnight?"

"My Knock - Kneed, Con-sumptive Mary Jane"; "Do Wacka Do Wacka Do Wacka Do"; "It Must Be Jelly Cause Jam Don't Shake Like That."

The current hits, "Mrs. Brown You Have a Lovely Daughter" and "I Wanna Hold Your Hand" make some sense, at least. Be a pal again and print this.—NORMAL TEEN.

Dear Normal: O. K. I'm a pal. (Yeah Yeah Yeah.) But new parents will be mad. Help!

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thank The Farmer

More Places Open For Hunt

Michigan sportsmen will have more places to seek small game thanks to the 1,500 landowners who are making about 110,000 acres of land available during this year's hunting season, according to the Wildlife Management Institute.

Under the program, which is coordinated by the Michigan Department of Conservation, landowners issue daily guest tickets to visiting hunters. The tickets are provided by the Conservation Department to cooperating landowners, who set a quota for the numbers of hunters using their lands. After each farmer has handed out his quota of tickets, late-arriving hunters have to wait until some of the tickets are returned.

"This system of hunter control," the Michigan Department says, "works to the advantage of sportsmen and farmers alike. It gives hunters with tickets ample elbow room to enjoy their sport and allows hunters to keep gun pressure at safe, reasonable levels."

The cardinal rule for hunting on private lands, the department advises, is "Ask the Farmer First." In addition to being good sportsmanship, it is a necessity in some states because of trespass laws.

Other things that sportsmen should do are:

1. Get field oriented to the farmer's property or the boundaries of his hunting club to avoid trespassing.
2. Learn what areas are off limits to shooting and stay away from them to prevent damage to livestock, crops, and buildings.
3. Observe all game laws and gun safety rules. Also, be careful with matches and cigarettes.
4. Treat the farmer's property as you would your own. Climb over fences where posts are located to avoid breaking down the wire. Always close gates so the farmer does not have to go chasing off in the next forty for his cattle.

Hunt Liability Covers Party, New Rule Holds

Both novice and veteran among the 700,000 small game hunters taking to Michigan fields this fall will want to know about a recent Supreme Court decision on the individual responsibilities of a hunting party.

Its author, Justice Theodore Souris, has summarized the liability of one member of a group for an injury caused by the negligence of another.

Though particularly applicable at this time to hunters, its application extends into other fields in all seasons. It holds for the hot rodders, the crew of a boat, even youths acting negligently at play.

The theory re-enunciated by Justice Souris is this: That in an injury case arising from the activities of a group acting negligently in concert, all share responsibility and are properly answerable to a jury in a damage suit.

The case in which Justice Souris spoke arose in this fashion:

A party of three pheasant hunters was deployed in a cornfield where visibility was poor. One fired at a pheasant, wounding a fourth hunter not of the party. The wounded man sued all three. Justice Souris prevailed in a majority decision holding identification of the hunter who actually fired the shot did not relieve his companions of responsibility. The case was sent back for determination by a jury.

"Even if it was admitted that it was defendant James DeLafie who shot the plaintiff, this in itself would not necessarily absolve other defendants of their liability," said Justice Souris.

County Approves Control Of Deer

The Marquette County Board of Supervisors has become the first such governing body in the Upper Peninsula to give unanimous support to the Conservation Department's deer herd control plans.

Acting upon recommendation of its conservation committee, the Board agreed that the Conservation Department is "presently carrying on an extensive, complete and adequate deer control program and recommendations of their biologists are aimed at maintaining the largest possible healthy deer herd."

Approval of the report, which called for support of the department's "present program for the harvesting of deer," was without opposition.

New Laws Sought To Fight Frauds

HOUGHTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley asked support Wednesday night for new legislation which he said would be designed to combat improper sales of hearing aids.

Kelley, speaking to the Chamber of Commerce and service clubs, discussed state efforts to fight frauds against consumers. He called attention to a new law taking effect Jan. 1 which will protect home owners against home improvement swindlers.

MICHIGAN'S FAMED whitetailed deer—some 800,000 of them—are the target for the deer hunting season which will open in the Upper Peninsula on Saturday, Nov. 13. The deer are the state's most plentiful big game animal and about a half-million persons join in hunting them each November.

Farm Leaders Will Be Trained In New Program

EAST LANSING — Thirty young, Michigan farm leaders have been named to participate in one of the most unique educational programs in American agriculture.

The first of three groups has been chosen to take part in the Kellogg Farmers' Study Program at Michigan State University. The venture, designed to train potential rural leaders is made possible through a $432,225 grant of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

During the training period the young farm leaders will enroll in an intensive program designed to help rural people make sound decisions with the guidance of well-informed farm leaders. The young farmers were selected from 26 Michigan counties. They will enroll in seminars, institutes, independent study coupled with tours and travel to give each a broad base to cope with the complex problems facing agriculture and rural communities.

Thirty additional participants will be selected for programs in 1966 and 1967. After five years, nearly 100 of the state's most promising rural leaders will have received a comprehensive insight into the economic, social and political framework of our society.

The first year participants include only one Upper Peninsular, John Kronmeyer of Pickford, Mackinac County farmer.

Man And Wife Join In Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — A Wisconsin couple, married for 37 years had heart surgery together and are reported in "very good condition" today.

Mrs. and Mrs. Alvin Dru'yor of Prairie du Chien, Wis., underwent open-heart surgery Wednesday by Dr. M. S. Mazel. The operation, called a cardiopexy, was to unblock arteries leading to the heart.

Dr. Mazel said the Dru'yors probably will be up and walking today and will be back at work in two or three weeks.

Mrs. Inez Dru'yor, 60, was tabbed for the operation after accompanying her husband, Alvin, 62, to Chicago for a physical examination two weeks ago.

Tests disclosed that she had a heart condition, similar to the one her husband had for seven years, only worse.

Hospital officials said the couple decided to have their surgery the same day to eliminate concern for each other that might possibly cause damage to their hearts.

Dru'yor is president of Travel Mat, Inc., a national paper mat printer.

PTA Leaders, Juvenile Court Officers Meet

PTA leaders from 12 mid-western states are meeting with juvenile court judges in Milwaukee today for an intensive study of "judicial concern for children in trouble."

Jointly sponsored by the National PTA and the National Juvenile Court Foundation, the conference is the third in a series of regional meetings that aim:

To acquaint PTA leaders with juvenile courts; stimulate local interest in community problems concerning juvenile courts and the children who come to their attention; and develop routes toward solution of these problems.

Participating in the sessions will be PTA leaders from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin and juvenile court authorities.

Conference speakers will discuss subjects including the differences of opinion about publicity and the family court as opposed to the juvenile court; problems of dependent, neglected, and abused children and of delinquent children; corrective treatment versus punitive justice; and the processes of treating juvenile offenders.

Rock 4-H Will Have Christmas Gift Exchange

ROCK—The Rock 4-H met at the Lions clubhouse Nov. 9 for the monthly meeting. A report showed that the bake and rummage sale was very successful. Another sale will be held in the spring.

Selling at the bowling lanes will be Eddie Wadeen and Craig Westlund on Monday and Thursday nights; Cheryl Larson and Debra Trombly on Wednesday night and Francine Trombly and Annette Kulack on Tuesday night. Tina Maniewicz and Dianne Westlund will be at Larson's store and Patricia and Priscilla Waak at the Co-op store.

Reports on project work showed that "Topper" members have completed their project, and the first year knitters are about done with their headbands and slippers.

Members voted to have a Christmas meeting Dec. 8. Gifts will be exchanged and everyone is to take part in the program. Members also voted to make gifts for their mothers for Christmas.

Sally Waak reported on her trip to Chicago in Sept., and Nancy Weidum told about her trip to Traverse City in Oct.

Craig Westlund joined the club. All new members were initiated. Nancy Weidum served lunch after the meeting, and Priscilla Week led games.

Judge Peters Speaks At BPW Meeting

The Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular dinner meeting at the Sherman Hotel Tuesday evening.

Judge Marie Peters reviewed the National Legislative Platform of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which was adopted at the annual convention held in Washington D.C. last July. Judge Peters explained that the platform is divided into two sections—Action and Policy—to provide a more effective means of implementing the legislative program.

Item one of the Action section is to advance the position of women through support of legislation. The Equal Rights Amendment has long been first on the National Legislative Platform. Judge Peters stated it covers a multitude of factors where by discrimination is shown by jury service in some states, alimony and divorce laws in others and in many, a woman cannot handle or own separate property in the same manner as her husband. There are still states where a woman cannot engage in business or pursue a profession or occupation as freely as can a member of the male sex. Inheritance rights of widows differ from those of widowers in some areas and restrictive work laws result in discrimination in the employment of women. Also in the action items are support of legislation for removal of and prevention of discrimination in government employment, uniform benefit provisions and uniform retirement requirements for men and women under the social security act and support of equitable tax adjustments.

Judge Peters stated that the legislative program supported by Business and Professional Women's Clubs benefits all women in the United States. Many of the rights already won by women have been promoted and gained through the efforts of this organization.

Leona Dougherty Speaks At School Council Meeting

Miss Leona Dougherty spoke to members of St. Joseph's Home and School Council last evening. On the staff of Bay de Noc Community College she conducted a speech clinic last summer. Miss Dougherty's background in the field of speech correction and education enabled her to present a most interesting and knowledgeable program.

With 5 per cent of all school children in need of professional help in speech correction, and a severe shortage of trained teachers in this field, Miss Dougherty said it would be up to the parents to help these children. She gave examples of many ways that parents, teachers, and other members of the family could assist a child in developing correct speech habits, and stresses three important points: listen to a child; encourage a child to speak, and don't correct the child. She cautioned against using baby talk because the child will repeat what he hears. Miss Dougherty placed great emphasis on reading to children at an early age and also in talking to them so they will hear words correctly spoken. She reminded the audience that the greatest tool we have is our ability to communicate with one another. Following her program, Miss Dougherty accommodated the members by answering many questions.

A report on the Halloween carnival was given by Joseph Ricci, who thanked all who helped make it a success. The December meeting will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 15, and a Christmas program by the school children will be presented and there will also be a Sisters' Recognition program. Mrs. Wallace Marenger was in charge of the refreshment committee of second grade mothers.

Confirmation classes of Methodist students will begin Monday, Nov. 22 at 1:30 p. m. at the church.

The junior class of the Trenary School will have a party sale Saturday. Orders may be placed with members of the class.

The bouffant skirt featured a front panel of roses and sequins and in the back it flowed into a tiered train. Her finger tip veil was of silk illusion with a border of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with trailing ivy.

Mrs. Young wore for her daughter's wedding, a two piece dress of brown crepe and she was presented with a corsage of fall colored flowers. The bride's grandmother was attired in a dress of black crepe with black chiffon sleeves and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Serving as best man was S/ Sgt. John M. Euler and ushering were S/Sgt. James A. McDonough and Nelson E. Deloria. A reception for relatives and friends was held at the bride's home, 710 S. 19th St. from 5 to 9 p. m.

Straits Check Point For Deer Killed In U.P.

This season's successful Michigan deer hunters are urged to do a good deed for their sport by pulling into one of the Conservation Department's roadside biological checking stations.

The stations, important outposts for collecting information which will guide the Department's deer management program, will be located at the Straits of Mackinac, and in the Lower Peninsula.

Hunters who stop at the checkpoint will have their animals aged and examined to give the Department a better knowledge of the deer herd's general physical condition, and trouble spots in the state's whitetail range.

Game biologists will be on duty at the Straits station Nov. 16-21 and Nov. 27-28.

Register Will Help Hunters Keep In Touch

Michigan deer hunters who hope to keep in touch with their families at home in case of emergencies are reminded to register their northern hunting addresses at the nearest field or district offices of the Conservation Department.

After signing in with the Department, each hunter should contact his family, giving the phone number of the conservation office where he is registered. In this way, conservation field workers can relay urgent messages with time-saving speed.

As another means of helping the Department in its service of delivering emergency messages, hunters camping on state lands are required to post registration cards at their sites. These cards are free at hunting license dealers and the Department's district offices.

Hunt Prospects Discussed By Sportsmen Club

HERMANSVILLE — The Sportsmen's Club, meeting at Rodman's dining room, discussed prospects for the deer hunting season including information on the Horton Trespass Law.

This year the club will not sponsor a "buck contest," it was decided by the group.

Correspondence was read from Ivan Thomson, district game biologist, on the pheasant feeding program; and from G. H. Earle about Hermansville Lake show the "winter kill" had very little effect on the pike and perch populations, it was noted.

John Malone, program chairman, presented movies including one on farmer-hunter relationships.

New members Walter Peters, Chester Godleski and son Eddie, were welcomed.

Be Sure By Sighting In Your Rifle

"Before you go deer hunting," says Ted McCawley of an arms manufacturing firm, "be sure you sight in your rifle. This is particularly important if you have a new gun. But don't forget that even your old favorite can get out of adjustment, particularly if it has a scope."

"A properly sighted-in rifle increases the chances of successful hunting by insuring that it will hit where it is aimed. Not to be overlooked is the opportunity that the procedure gives for sportsmen to refresh themselves on the fundamentals of safe gun handling and good marksmanship."

Most rifle ranges have facilities that they will share with hunters for this purpose. Many gun clubs sponsor "sighting-in" days each fall.

Legion Opposes Gun Restriction

The American Legion has joined forces with sporting and civic organizations who have registered opposition to restrictive firearms bills of the Dodd Bill type.

In a resolution offered at its national convention, the American Legion, composed of three million former servicemen, said the "effort to compel registration of all firearms by the American people has been steadfastly rejected as an inconvenience and unnecessary control, if not curtailment of the right of the people to have and bear arms guaranteed in the Constitution."

The resolution recommended permits for purchase of concealable firearms but further stated that one or more guns in a home for sport and protection serve as a "deterrent in this period of alarming crime increase."

The American Bible Society was founded in 1816 at New York, with Elias Boudinot as its first head.

Michigan Week Winning Fame Through Stomach

Michigan Week is becoming as heady as May wine and 1966 looks like a vintage year.

The week will be observed May 15-21 and organization for the observance in Region 2 started at a meeting of state, regional and county officials at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce Building on Wednesday. The region includes Schoolcraft, Alger, Delta, Menominee, Dickinson and Marquette counties.

Describing the way in which Michigan Week—always a big week in Michigan schools since the observance started 13 years ago—has grooved itself into community-wide acceptance, Keith Forsberg of Northern Michigan University, told of an incident in St. Ignace Tuesday at a Region 3 luncheon. Forsberg is deputy general chairman of Section A embracing 27 counties in Northern Michigan.

"The menu in the restaurant," said Forsberg, "offered smoked pork chops 'that won the Presque Isle County product of the year award in Michigan Week, 1965.' Everybody talked about them."

Product of Year
There were no product of the year awards when Michigan Week was started. Its first product of the year award was to "Anatomy of a Murder," the novel by John Voelker of Ishpeming and the movie which Otto Preminger made from it. There was no contest that first time, the award was made by three judges, John A. Hanna, Gus Scholle and Dan Gerber.

Michigan Week keeps changing, expanding, involving more persons, inspiring more Michiganders to pride in their state. Next year's Michigan week poster won't picture the familiar perky Robin, Michigan's state bird. Instead it will picture three herring gulls soaring past the Mackinac Bridge, which will symbolize the union of Michigan's two peninsulas.

Penfield Is Leader
Paul Penfield, advertising director of Detroit Edison Co., and general chairman of Michigan Week 1966 keynoted the observance in addresses to county leaders in three U. P. meetings this week, winding up today in Hancock.

"We're trying to involve more citizens," said Penfield "to get them to use Michigan Week for their own advantage and at the same time to help boost the Michigan Week program. It has been singularly successful in building knowledge and pride in Michigan—ask any typical student and you'll see. It sells the attractions of Michigan to the nation and to the world. It gets the people of the state working together."

Richard Larsen, city manager of Munising who is Region 2 chairman, estimated that there will be 10,000 persons involved in Michigan Week observance in the region next May.

Region 2 Leaders
Leaders of the observance are: County Chairmen Alfred Gelbke, Munising, Alger County; Wynand Nieuwenkamp, Gladstone, Delta County; Lloyd Varda, Kingsford, Dickinson County; Mrs. S. J. Bessolo, Ne-gaunee, Marquette County; David Olive, Stephenson, Menominee County; and Dean Rhoads, Schoolcraft, Schoolcraft County.

Chairmen: James Carter of the Marquette Mining Journal and Jack Dempsey of WLUC-TV, publicity; Leo Alperovitz and Joseph L. Heirman, Escanaba, awards; Elwood Mattson, Marquette, finance; Charles Follo, Escanaba, cultural activities; William Van Kosky, Marquette, industrial promotion; Allan Dighera, Marquette, promotional materials; Mrs. Phyllis Kolbus, Munising, Hospitality Day; Edwin Wuehle, Manistique, Education Day; and J. Willis Owens, Marquette, university-college field services.

At Cost
Larsen presented certificates of appointment to the chairmen at the U. P. meetings this week. Penfield and Don Weeks of the Greater Michigan Foundation which sponsors Michigan Week will tour the Upper Peninsula again in mid-winter to meet with Forsberg, Larsen and the county and activities chairmen.

Weeks said Michigan Week was patterned after Pennsylvania Week when need was felt 13 years ago for a means of getting citizens interested in the promotion of their state in a substantial way. Pennsylvania Week, which was sponsored by the State of Pennsylvania with a strong political edge, spent $50,000 a year of state money on free Pennsylvania Week posters alone. Pennsylvania Week has disappeared but Michigan Week gets stronger each year.

"We don't give any free posters," said Weeks, "we distribute them at cost."

LOST PRODUCTIVITY
At the height of its prosperity in the 18th century, Haiti provided Europe with all its sugar and Louis XV's France with half its national income; today, the country has the lowest gross national product per capita in the Americas.

COUNTY CHAIRMEN of Michigan Week 1966 for the mid-Upper Peninsula met at Escanaba Wednesday to plan observance of the week. From left: David Olive, Menominee; Dean Rhoads, Schoolcraft; Mrs. S. J. Bessolo, Marquette;

PLANNING OBSERVANCE of Michigan Week, May 15-21, in the mid-Upper Peninsula on Wednesday at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce were, from left: Richard Larsen, Munising, regional chairman; Keith Forsberg, Marquette, Section A deputy general chairman; State Senator Thomas Schweigert, (R-Petoskey); Paul Penfield, Detroit, state chairman, and Don Weeks, Lansing, of the Greater Michigan Foundation which sponsors Michigan Week.

Asks Clothing For Overseas Drive

Residents of the community who wish to donate used clothing for Overseas World Relief are asked to bring them to their Lutheran Church not later than Friday noon, Nov. 12, so that the clothing can be sorted and packed in boxes for loading on the railroad boxcar on Monday, Nov. 15. This annual drive is sponsored by the program of Lutheran World Relief and all Lutheran Churches of the area are cooperating. The clothing will be given to those in need without concern of color or religious affiliation. The public is also invited to participate in this drive. All clothing should be in good repair, clean, and ready for use. Phone the Lutheran pastor in your area if you have any questions. Clothing will not in most cases be picked up—it should be brought to the church.

Social Security Changes To Give Delta $840,000

Congress' 1965 amendments to the Social Security Act will add $840,000 in benefit payments during 1966 to residents of Delta County. This will bring total payments in Delta County under the enlarged program to $4,770,000 in 1966, says congressman Raymond Clevenger.

In 1967 additional payments will amount to $1,400,000 and total payments will rise to $5,500,000.

An estimated 230 residents of Delta County, who could not receive monthly benefits under the old-age, survivors and disability insurance (OASDI) program as in effect before the 1965 amendments will be able to receive monthly benefits immediately under the program as amended.

Additional OASDI benefit payments resulting from the amendments to persons living in Delta County are estimated at $490,000 in calendar year 1966 and $540,000 in calendar year 1967. Total benefit payments in 1966 and 1967 under the OASDI program as modified by the 1965 amendments are estimated to be $4,420,000 and $4,660,000, respectively.

About 4,200 persons aged 65 and over residing in Delta County will be eligible for hospital insurance protection (Medicare) under the basic plan on the effective date, July 1, 1966. Hospital insurance benefit payments under the plan will be about $280,000 in July-December 1966, and $610,000 in calendar year 1967, the first full calendar year of operation.

Benefit payments in Delta County under the voluntary supplementary medical insurance benefits plan will be about $70,000 in July-December 1966, and $250,000 in 1967.

Delta's Growers Score High In Potato Contests

Delta County potato growers showed their business in a healthy state of growth at the 36th annual Upper Peninsula Potato Show held at Felch High School on Wednesday.

The Burbank potato was the star of this year's show and it dominated the exhibits so strongly that some varieties of the tubers which had stellar roles in U. P. Shows in recent years were missing from the exhibits entirely.

By "continuing to act in a constitutional manner," Smith's broadcast was monitored in London at No. 10 Downing Street while the British Cabinet was in session considering the crisis.

As soon as Smith made his declaration, the British governor of Rhodesia, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, announced that on instructions from the queen he had suspended Smith and all his ministers from office.

It was not immediately clear how the governor would implement the queen's instructions, however. Wilson previously had ruled out the use of British troops to nullify a declaration of independence.

ACTION DENOUNCED

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson today denounced Rhodesia's seizure of independence as "an illegal and self-destructing action" for which Ian Smith and his ministers have been fired.

Reporting to the House of Commons on the crisis snaking the British Commonwealth, Wilson also announced:

- Rhodesia's expulsion from the sterling area.
- A ban on the export of goods to the country.
- Suspension of Commonwealth preferences so far as Rhodesia is concerned.

Briefly Told

Barbershoppers will meet at Carpenters Hall tonight at 8:01.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Clarence V. Roeder, Welcome Hotel, Escanaba, improper backing; and Michael D. Muraro, Loretto, speeding.

A scheduled meeting of the City Council and members of the Escanaba Area Public Schools board of education was postponed from last night to the night of Dec. 16. Cause of the postponement was a conflict of meetings that would have reduced the school board representation to two members. A discussion of the community school program is planned.

Two persons were injured, neither seriously, in the collision of two automobiles at 3rd Ave. S. and 13th St. at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, it is reported by Escanaba police.

Helen B. Langren of 920 S. 10th St. suffered an ankle injury and Mary Lynn Shea, 417 S. 12th St., an injury to her knee. Mrs. Langren was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

Fishing First Major Industry In Delta County

The fishing industry, whose pioneers came to Delta County waters perhaps 130 years ago, has contributed much to the progress of the area—and the future is not as bleak as some reports would indicate. Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba, told the Delta County Historical Society at its meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building Wednesday night.

Jensen, member of a pioneer family here and secretary of the Michigan Fish Producers, was introduced by Charles Folio, president of the Historical Society.

At a brief business meeting the Historical Society set the date of Jan. 19 for its annual dinner meeting. Plans for the program will be completed at a meeting of the directors to be held Dec. 15.

Folio directed attention to the Upper Peninsula Historical Conference to be held in Delta County in August of 1966, to be hosted by the local Society.

Neis And Markets

Jensen in his talk to the Society displayed models of several types of fishing nets: pound nets, trap nets, trawl and gill nets—together with examples of weights and leads used in the early days of the industry.

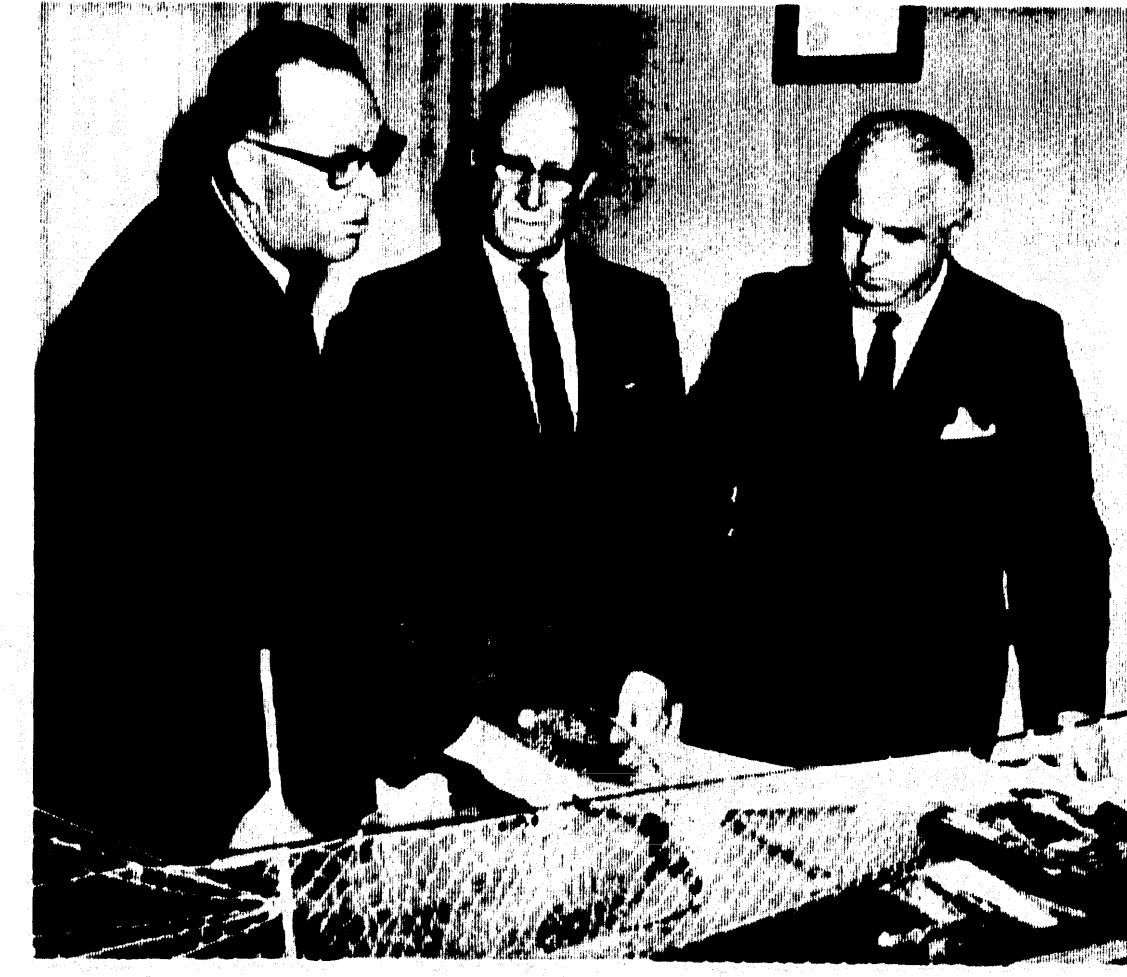

"At the turn or just before the turn of the 20th century there were fishing operations in Fairport, Fayette, Garden, Nahma, Isabella, Okontz, Bark River, Gladstone and Escanaba. Fish were brought to Escanaba from Stoughton, also," Jensen reported.

Mostly pound nets were used at the time, although there was some gill netting, with the nets made of cotton or linen "Set hooks" for taking lake trout were set off Fairport Trout, whitefish, herring, chubs, perch and suckers were taken.

How the fish were dressed and prepared for shipment to market was described by the speaker. Much of the production was salted and shipped in kegs to the South, because there was then no refrigeration.

Some were frozen in pans under a covering of ice and salt for a nearer market. "Herring frozen in this manner was placed in barrels and

Three Red China Airmen Defect, Fly To Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Three Chinese Communist airmen defected to Nationalist China today and flew their Ilyushin 28 jet bomber to Formosa, the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry announced.

Two of the crewmen were injured, one seriously, in landing the plane at an air force base in north Formosa, the ministry said.

The three were identified as pilot Lee Hsien Ping, a native of Shantung Province; navigator Lee Tsai Wang, of Szechwan Province, and radio operator Lien Pao Sheng, of Hopei. The navigator and the radio operator were injured, the ministry said.

The plane skidded off the runway during the landing because of bad weather and the crew's lack of familiarity with the terrain, an official said.

GLADSTONE Schools To Let Gymnasium Bids

Wallace Cameron, superintendent of the Gladstone Public Schools, said Wednesday that Dec. 16 has been tentatively set to let bids on the new $300,000 physical education building at the high school.

Cameron said bonds for the project were sold last week at 3.78411 per cent interest.

"We hope to be able to use the building by next basketball season," Cameron said. "Right now, every indication is that we will, even if construction isn't started until next April."

Architects for the building are Warren Holmes & Co., Lansing.

Ian Ironside, a representative of the firm, met with the Gladstone Board of Education Tuesday night for a final review of building plans.

The project, which will include a gymnasium area for basketball and a sports deck for physical education activities, also includes a new boiler room for the school.

Cameron said the start of construction would depend on the weather. He said with mild weather work could begin this winter.

Escanaba Man Escapes Injury In Car Rollover

Gary Besson, 1215 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, escaped injury at 4:10 p. m. Wednesday when his car ran off what State Police termed a "treacherous stretch" of Co. Rd. 126 south of Hendricks and rolled over.

Troopers said Besson was attempting to pass another when the car skidded off the road. No tickets were issued.

The road, newly surfaced, can be very slippery for several miles, police said.

Briefly Told

State Police issued traffic tickets Wednesday to Jesse Goins, Lansing, no mud flaps on truck; Robert D. Willis, Rte. 1, Rapid River, speeding; Lela Fredrickson, 1115 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, speeding.

Timothy LeMire, 318 Lake Shore Dr., Escanaba, struck and killed a deer with his car on U. S. 41 about one mile north of U. S. 2 in Masonville Township at 1:15 a. m. Wednesday. State Police reported.

Juveniles are believed to be responsible for breaking and entering a vacant house at Rapid River owned by Sophie Cameron. State Police said the house was entered in the past few weeks and furniture overturned and damaged.

The Evening Circle of Evangelical Covenant Church will meet at 8 p. m. today at the church. Elsie Swenson and Mrs. Loren Anderson will present the program and Lois Burns is hostess.

Secret Service Staff To Grow

WASHINGTON (AP)—A massive reorganization of the Secret Service is planned and chief James J. Rowley's title will be changed to director, a Treasury official said Wednesday.

Rufus Youngblood, who has been head of the White House detail, is being promoted to one of four new posts of assistant director, and Lam Johns, now his top assistant, replaces him on the White House detail.

In addition, Rowley will have two staff assistants who will carry the title of assistant to the director.

Under the change, Rowley will have a title equal in rank to that of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The Treasury official said Rowley preferred the title of director and that this designation is normally used for heads of intelligence services.

Within the next few months the number of Secret Service personnel is scheduled to grow to about 950, almost twice the number two years ago.

Youngblood will be in charge of all details of the protection provided for President Johnson, the vice president, former presidents and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The promotion of Youngblood was in recognition of his outstanding work while head of the White House detail, the official said.

Youngblood was riding with Johnson, then vice president, in November 1963 when President Kennedy was assassinated. Youngblood was credited with acting quickly in pushing Johnson to the floor of the car and protecting him with his body.

Hunt Prospects Promising In Esky District

Prospects for a repeat of 1964's fine deer hunt in the Escanaba District (No. 3) of the Michigan Conservation Department, are promising, says Joseph Vogt, game biologist of the district.

The district comprises Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger.

Vogt announced:

The 1964 season in District 3 produced the best kill since 1959. A total of 7,600 deer were taken, or an average of 2.2 per square mile.

Department surveys this year indicate a herd similar in size to that of a year ago. An exception is the Lake Superior watershed, the northernmost portions of Marquette and Alger counties. Here winter's icy hand removed considerable numbers of yarding deer by starvation. But even here, fawns were born and the herd rebounds in size.

Deer continue to be killed by cars with great frequency in District 3. The October kill of 43 brings the 1965 total to 213, very close to last year's number of 219 during the same period. The previous 5 year average is 181.

Archers generally report seeing deer in good numbers in most parts of the district. Success was fairly good in the Northland area, on the Stonington Peninsula, and south of Munising.

Field employee observations through October show an increase over last year in Delta and Alger counties, but a drop in Marquette county. This survey represents over 3,100 hours of observation during the month.

In Delta County, the best prospects appear in the Nahma, Stonington and the west Escanaba zones. On the Garden Peninsula deer appear more numerous than last year. The Rock area is not showing up as well as expected.

Marquette hunters should do well in the area south of Gwinn. Deer have also been seen in good numbers south of U. S. 41 - M 35, but north they appear fewer. Substantial over-winter losses have hurt here.

In Alger County, the deer hunting prospects appear fairly good, with deer showing in good numbers late in October. The lands about Federal Forest Highway 13 should again be a popular hunting ground, with good success registered there last year. Limestone, Kiva and AuTrain are also likely locales to bag a whitetail.

The district is divided into 5 different units in which varying quotas of antlerless deer will be taken. Despite the removal of over 3,100 antlerless deer last season, we still suffered substantial losses over last winter. We hope that 5,300 antlerless deer will be taken in the district this season by permittees to balance the herd more closely with the available food supply.

Several hundred deer have been marked in this district with colored polyethylene collars. We ask hunters to report such deer to the nearest conservation officer or Conservation Department field office.

St. Ann's Ladies Planning For Christmas Party

The St. Ann ladies of the St. Francis Xavier parish met Monday evening and discussed the Deaneary Workshop held in October. Those who reported on various committees were Mrs. Julia Kass, Mrs. Lester Siska, Mrs. Wallace Wells, Miss Loleeta Sanford and Mrs. Wilfred Fleetwood. Mrs. John Schroeder Jr. reported on the Halloween dance sponsored by the St. Mary Circle.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shannon reported on the replacement of dishes and silver which will be bought by the society for the parish hall.

It was decided that a St. Ann member, upon reaching the age of 70, no longer has to pay society dues. Mrs. Wilfred Fleetwood will write up the history of the past year of the society.

The St. Ann and Holy Name Societies have agreed to purchase and install a new side door to the church to serve as an extra exit. A ramp will also be built for people using wheel chairs. Preparations will begin this month.

The Christmas party will be on Sunday, Dec. 5 with a pot luck dinner for members and their husbands. A food shower for the sisters, will take place that evening. Also the donation of dish towels is asked for the parish hall kitchen.

Refreshments were served by Mother Cabrini Circle. The Holy Name men joined the ladies for lunch after their meeting and will furnish the refreshments at the February meeting.

The Handy Helpers 4-H Club held their Friday meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Kell after school. They started making favors to be used for the patients at Pinecrest Medicare. Next meeting will be Nov. 19.

Hunt Land Plan Faces Hard Trial

Successful implementation of wildlife aspects of the new Cropland Adjustment Program, to be administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will require a greater level of cooperation than achieved heretofore by federal agricultural agencies, state and local agricultural committees, and state wildlife conservation departments, according to the Wildlife Management Institute. A part of the 1965 Food and Agriculture Act, the Cropland Adjustment Program could take up to 40 million acres of land out of crop production and divert it to wildlife, recreation, and soil and moisture conserving purposes during the next four years.

In addition to offering a per-acre payment for diverted land, the act authorizes cost sharing with landowners for putting the lands under various kinds of vegetative cover, including wildlife habitat, and provides for an incentive payment to landowners who permit public access for hunting, fishing and trapping. It also authorizes federal cost sharing with state and local governments for the purchase of cropland and its permanent development for recreation, park, and other useful purposes.

Longest railroad tunnel in the United States is the Cascade tunnel through the Cascades in Washington. It is 7.79 miles long.

Hunting Rates As Safe Sport

Looking for a good, safe sport? Then take up hunting. A five-year accident study, made by a national insurance company, shows that baseball, football, golf, fishing and other sports are much more dangerous than hunting. The shooting sports, which include hunting, were way down the list, in 16th place, as a producer of accidents.

In fact, recreational activities at church socials produced more accident claims, but should not be used as an excuse to give up church activities in favor of going hunting every Sunday!

In This Corner

The Central Michigan University freshman football team, with former Eskymo athlete Bill Sarnowski in the line, will close out its four game schedule this afternoon with a game at Detroit against the Wayne State frosh. . . Central's freshman team has defeated Eastern, 24-6, and Western, 18-8, while losing to Grand Rapids Junior College, 23-0.

Coach Bob Kravak of Menominee has his two ton scorers and rebounders back from last year's basketball team. . . The Maroon team will be built around 6-2 senior Jim Uecke and 6-2 sophomore Pat Miller who combined to score 453 points last season. . . Two other lettermen returning this year are Mike Bellile and Bob Kitchen, both seniors. . . The Maroons won 12 of 17 last year.

At Kingsford, Coach Gordy Farragh faces a big job of rebuilding the team that fashioned an 18-4 record, won the Upper Peninsula Class B crown and reached the semifinals of the state tournament before losing to powerful River Rouge. . . The only lettermen back from that squad are Jeff Franson, Jim Johnson and Jim Strolberg. . . Farragh lost eight lettermen, including four starters, through graduation. . . As they did in football, the Flivver eagles will be competing in both the Great Northern and Menominee Range conferences.

Crystal Falls, coming off a championship season in football, could make a run for the Upper Peninsula basketball crown as well. . . Coach Stu Smith has six lettermen and nine seniors on his Trojan squad. . . Heading the returnees are a pair of lanky performers in Dick Horner at 6 feet 7 inches and Gary Sackbeck at 6-6. . . Also back is Ted Sackbeck, 6-3½ senior, who scored 296 points and grabbed 189 rebounds. . . Other lettermen back are Jon Makuck, Tom Davis and Allan Anderson.

Coach Don Pfotenbauer of Gladstone will have his best runner and second best tackler back on the football gridiron next fall. . . Halfback Tom Stade gained 764 yards in 144 carries in spite of missing one game with a knee injury. . . Gary Larson, who followed Stade in the rushing department with 373 yards, was also the second leading tackler on the team with 108. . . Senior Bill Potvin topped the tacklers with 111 for the season.

Ron Winkler, Milwaukee heavyweight managed by Andy Hylinen, scored his second straight TKO on the amateur boxing show in the Wisconsin city this week, stopping John Major, also of Milwaukee, at 1:46 of the first round. . . Hylinen is a native of Trenary whose three sons were outstanding Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champs a few years back.

Butrymowicz Loses Everyone

No Returning Lettermen On Holy Name Cage Team

When you talk about rebuilding jobs in high school basketball ranks, the school at the head of the list in the Upper Peninsula this season is Holy Name.

Coach John Butrymowicz is literally starting from scratch. The Crusaders lost every letterman on last year's team through graduation, with the exception of Charles Dube. And Dube transferred to Rock.

That leaves Butrymowicz without a single veteran on his 12-man squad that is drilling daily for the season opener at Escanaba Nov. 19.

Missing from the team that fashioned a 12-7 record last season are Frank Trotter, Walt Vroman, Bill O'Connell, Jim Beau, Mike Kidd and Larry Ego.

Lincoln Nemed Back Of Week

By The Associated Press
It's a good thing for the rest of the league that Keith Lincoln still has a sore right foot. The San Diego Chargers' fullback only scored three touchdowns and passed for another last week. Imagine what he would have done if he had been healthy?

For this fine performance against the Denver Broncos in a 35-21 victory, Lincoln was named today The Associated Press' Offensive Player of the Week in the American Football League.

Lincoln has been troubled all year by pulled tendons in his foot. He played in only four of the Chargers' nine games so far. He expected to start last Sunday, but the foot acted up while he was running pass patterns so he sat out the first period.

When Lincoln did get in, he took a seven-yard TD pass from John Hadl and a 44-yarder from Hadl before the half was over. With the score tied at 14-14 in the third period, Lincoln threw a 35-yard TD pass to Lance Alworth. Lincoln finished the day's work by plunging over from the one in time final period.

Only Two Vets Back This Year On Comet Team

TRENARY—With only two letter winners returning from the team that won 16 of 20 starts last season, Coach Steve Ellis has some big holes to fill in his Trenary basketball lineup.

Lost from last year's crack Comet team were Gary Flynn, Wayne Lusardi, Alan Rukilla, Greg Cady and Murray Blair.

Flynn and Lusardi were a speedy guard duo who combined to score over 700 points last season. Rukilla also averaged over 13 points and Cady was just under 10.

Returning lettermen are senior Dennis Ylinen, 5 feet 8 inches, and junior Kim Peterson, 6-2½, who made the Central League all-conference team as a sophomore last year.

Other members of the Trenary squad include senior Leo

Mikita Powers Hawks' Victory

By The Associated Press

Detroit's struggling Red Wings won the battle but lost the war.

The National Hockey League's defending champions, mired in fifth place, ran smack into unbeaten Chicago and red-hot superstar Bobby Hull, who had scored 11 goals in his first six games, Wednesday night.

So the Red Wings held bullet Bobby without a point—no goals and no assists—but the Black Hawks got their firepower from scoring champion Stan Mikita and romped, 5-2.

The victory gave the Hawks six victories and a tie in seven starts and moved Chicago one point ahead of Montreal which played a 3-3 tie with Toronto, Boston and New York tied 2-2 in the other NHL game Wednesday night.

Mikita was the big gun for the Hawks, scoring two goals, one while Chicago was short-handed.

Yago Up Front With Wildcats

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's basketball Wildcats, under the guidance of head coach Stan Albeck, are at the midway point in pre-season practice for the 1965-66 season.

NMU, after the traditional intra-squad game November 22, will open the season December 1 against Calvin College in Grand Rapids.

With eight returning veterans and eight newcomers making up his 16-man squad, Albeck has plenty of depth at guard, but may find himself a bit short-handed up front.

Veterans Bill Koski (Champion) and Brian Ferguson (Lansing) appear to be the Wildcats' number one back court. Greg Kirby (Danville, Ill.) and combination Koski, a 5-11 junior, is a sharp ball-handler and steady performer. Ferguson, a 6-2 junior, will provide plenty of deception and a back-court scoring treat.

Two other veterans, Tom Lemorande (Green Bay, Wis.) and Les Coduti (Ishpeming), shape up as alternates for the Koski-Ferguson combination. Lemorande, a 6-1 junior, can also play forward. Both he and Coduti, a 5-10 sophomore, saw considerable action last year.

Three newcomers pushing the four veteran guards are six-foot Dominic Jacubetti (Negaunee), 5-10 Jim Lawson (Tecomseh) and six-foot Jeff Clinie (Roseville). All are freshmen.

Albeck has announced he'll move his Little All-America center, Gene Summers (Elliot), forward, at least to start the season. The 6-4 senior rewrote NMU's individual single-season scoring records last year and is expected to lead the Wildcats in scoring an rebounding again this season.

Summers will be paired at forward with veteran Can Yagodzinski (Escanaba), a 5-5 junior who was second in total points and rebounding a year ago. The Summers-Yagodzinski up-front combination will provide the Cats with a tremendous one-two scoring and rebounding punch.

Dave Kovack (Westville, Ill.) a 6-3 sophomore, and Mike Boyd (New Castle, Ind.) a 6-4 freshman, are the top forward replacements at the moment. Kovack sat out last year with a pre-season injury.

A trio of freshmen, 6-4 Bill Ford (Mount Clemens), 6-5

Duffy Cautions Against Upset

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Coaches have been reminding the currently No. 1-ranked Michigan State team all week that it was beaten by Indiana last year 27-20.

This has made for some spirited workouts by the unbeaten, untied outfit that now needs only to whip the Hoosiers Saturday to take its first undisputed Big Ten title and be assured of a Rose Bowl bid.

MSU had a 4-5 record last fall and was overlooked in the preseason estimates of power potential.

"We can't afford to overlook Indiana now," insists cautious Coach Duffy Daugherty.

Wednesday's workout ran the usual 1½ hours. Some new plays have been added to help guarantee against any upset by the Hoosiers.

ENGADINE — Coach Rod Carlson of Engadine has good size and experience on his Eagle basketball squad this season with eight lettermen returning from the team that fashioned a 4-14 record last year.

Three returning regulars are Jack Archie, Dave Frazier and Calence Boucha. Other letter winners on the squad are John King, John Blanchard, Richard Ozanich, Nelson Hurst and Leon Buss.

Other members of the varsity squad include Dennis Belleville, Gerry Blanchard, Jim Legault, Roger Nesbit and Mike Bigger.

Archie, Nesbit, King and Hurst are all 6 feet 2½ inches while Boucha, Ozanich, Buss and John Blanchard are 6-0.

"In general, player attitude seems much improved over that of last year," says Carlson.

"Practices have been spirited and we're looking forward to playing some good basketball this year. We have the size and experience to have a successful season."

The Engadine schedule: Nov. 16—Cooks there; Nov. 19—DeTour there; Dec. 3—Cedarville there; Dec. 8—Paradise here; Dec. 10—Soo Loretto there; Dec. 14—Nahma here; Dec. 17—Grand Marais there; Jan. 7—Pickford here; Jan. 14—Cedarville here; Jan. 15—Garden there; Jan. 21—DeTour there; Jan. 22—Garden here; Jan. 28—Grand Marais here; Feb. 5—Brimley there; Feb. 11—Loretto here; Feb. 18—Brimley here; Feb. 26—Pickford there

In addition to the lack of experience, Butrymowicz is also faced with a lack of height this year. Only four Crusaders reach the 6-foot mark, topped by Smith and Wiles at 6-2. Plouff and Brandt are 6-1.

The Holy Name schedule: Nov. 19—Escanaba there; Nov. 24—Bishop Baraga here; Dec. 3—Stephenson there; Dec. 4—Ishpeming here; Dec. 7—Gladstone here; Dec. 10—Manistique here; Dec. 17—Munising here; Jan. 7—Kingsford there; Jan. 11—Menominee there; Jan. 14—Gwin here; Jan. 18—Manistique there; Jan. 28—Bishop Baraga there; Feb. 4—Gladstone there; Feb. 11—Menominee here; Feb. 15—Stephenson here; Feb. 18—Escanaba here; Feb. 25—Iron Mountain here

Northern Moves Up Grid Ladder

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Northern Michigan moved into third place in this week's NAIA football ratings. The Wildcats, who have a 7-1 record, trailed unbeaten St. John's of Minnesota and Sul Ross (Tex.) State in the voting.

Three letter winners back in action this season are seniors

Sugar Ray Washed Up

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson is near the end of the road but the roar of the crowd still makes sweet music in his ears.

The fight with young Joey Archer Wednesday night may have been his last stop. Tre Harlem dandy wants to think it over for a day or two before he makes up his mind.

The Sugar Man retired way back in 1952 and stayed away for two years. After he came back he won and lost the world middleweight title three times. But the skills that earned him the reputation of the best fighter pound-for-pound in all ring history have faded.

His dream of winning the championship for the sixth time must have vanished in thin air after his game effort but decisive defeat by the 27-year-old New York Irishman.

It is Archer's turn to scream "we want Dick Tiger." Chances are he'll get that shot at the middleweight crown. Teddy Brenner, the Madison Square Garden matchmaker, wants to make it for March in New York.

Archer knocked down Robinson for a nine-count in the fourth round to the surprise of the Civic Arena crowd of 9,023 that paid a gross gate of $40,913. He rocked the tired body of the faded ex-champion time after time and almost put him away in the 10th round.

All three officials voted for him — referee Buck McTiernan 48-41, judge Ernie Sesto 49-40 and judge George Lupinacci 50-39. The AP cards was 48-41.

When the final bell rang the cheers were for Sugar Ray, who claims to be 44 although the record books carry his age at 45. They weren't applauding because they thought Robinson had won.

They were paying a tribute to a gallant stand by an old man who was still trying to knock out the kid with one big punch. He had only one big round, the third.

The truth of the matter is that Robinson's once potent punch has lost its zip. He raked Archer with left hooks and combinations as he punished Randy Turpin, Gene Fullmer, Jack Lamotta, Rocky Graziano, Carmen Basilio and all the others in the good old days.

Nothing happened. Archer shook off the bombs and pecked away with that stiff left jab that forced the old boy to apply ice packs to his cheeks in his dressing room.

"I tried from the first punch to knock him out," said Robinson, a forlorn figure on a bench. "The knockdown was the difference. He caught me off balance with a right hand."

"You'll have to ask my manager," said Robinson pointing to George Gainford.

"We'll decide in a couple of days," said the swarthy Emperor. Later, in a dark corridor, Gainford nodded his head and said, "Age catches up to everybody."

Around the corner and down the hall, the Archer boys, Joey and his brother, Jimmy, who acts as his manager, were yelling for Tiger. But first, Joey had a kind word for Ray.

"He's still a great champion," said Joey. "He went out like a champ. I can see why they said he was so great. I learned something fighting him."

It was Robinson's 14th fight of the year and his fifth defeat.

Four Starters Among Missing On Garden '5'

GARDEN—The loss of four starters among six lettermen will force Coach Dave Pelletier to floor a team of new faces when the Garden Jets open their basketball season at Nahma Friday, Nov. 19.

Missing from the squad that ran up a 16-6 record last season are Barry Rochfort, Joe Jacques, Butch LeBresh, John Thill, Cal Richard and Mike Kolinske.

LaVigne is the tallest of the Garden players at 6 feet 2 inches while Peterson is a 6-footer and Lucas and Thibault are over 5-10.

Pelletier, entering his seventh year at Garden, carries a 73-45 coaching record and his teams have won two district championships, including one last year.

The Jets will compete in the holiday tournament at Eben this year.

The Garden schedule: Nov. 19—Nahma there; Dec. 2—Cooks there; Dec. 10—Trenary here; Dec. 15—Perkins here; Dec. 17—Bark River here; Dec. 27—Holiday tourney; Dec. 28—Holiday tourney; Jan. 7—Cooks here; Jan. 11—Rapid River here; Jan. 15—Engadine here; Jan. 25—Bark River there; Jan. 28—Rock here; Feb. 4—Eben here; Feb. 8—Nahma here; Feb. 16—Perkins here; Feb. 18—Trenary there; Feb. 22—Grand Marais at Manistique.

Willie Is Most Valuable

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Just by winning the 1965 National League Most Valuable Player Award, Willie Mays has set another record.

For it was 11 years ago that the San Francisco Giants' center fielder last captured the MVP. And no player in baseball history has had to wait that long between.

Joe DiMaggio, another famous center fielder from San Francisco, once waited eight years between MVP's when he was with the New York Yankees.

"It's just wonderful to be chosen with so many good ball players around," said Mays when notified he had won Wednesday. "It's especially good because we didn't win a pennant. But I'd rather have won the pennant than the award."

The 34-year-old Mays, whose Giants finished two games behind Los Angeles, polled 224 points in the balloting announced in Boston by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Sandy Koufax the left-handed unanimous Cy Young Award choice as Most Valuable Pitcher, got 177 points for his 28-6 record and two Series victories.

Mays carried the Giants through August by hitting 17 homers, a league record. San Francisco then won 14 in a row in September and took over first place only to fall back later in the race of a 13-game Los Angeles victory string.

Home run No. 52 came on the last day of the season and set a club record. It left him with 505 career homers, only six less than the National League mark of 511 by ex-Giant Mel Ott.

The ordinance requires payment of a $15 fee for the first 24 hours and advance deposit of $10 for each additional day. The alleged offense occurred Sept. 2. Pruyne sells fruits and other produce.

Fine of $35 and costs of $7.30 were assessed in Justice Court to Harry B. Ash, Troy, Ohio, on a charge of falsely procuring a resident hunter license while a non-resident. The non-resident fee is $35; resident's, $5.

The VFW Auxiliary meets Monday at 8 p.m. Hostesses will be Mmes Francis Baker, John Lowry, Arthur LaMontagne, Leslie Plante and Mayme Bashore.

Examination Set

Examination is scheduled Nov. 16 for Herbert F. Lenon, 25 of Marquette, charged with felonious assault by Bernard Lasich. 22 also of Marquette. Bond has been set at $1,000. The charge stems from an altercation which took place at the city dump early Monday, according to reports. Lasich was treated for cuts at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Weather Factor In Success Or Failure Of Hunt

Prospects point to another big deer kill approaching last year's second highest take of 140,000 whitetails when Michigan's firearm deer season blasts off Saturday, Nov. 13 in the Upper Peninsula and Nov. 20 in the Lower Peninsula.

With the state's deer herd estimated at 800,000 animals, about the same as last fall, the pre-season picture again looks highly promising for upwards of a record 575,000 sportsmen who are expected to sweep across fields and forestlands in the next few weeks.

Admittedly, much still depends on that big make-it or break-it factor, the weather.

Expect Big Kill

However, if hunters have conditions to their liking, particularly during the all-important first few days of the season, they should be odds-on favorites to rack up a harvest of about 75,000 bucks and nearly 64,000 antlerless deer.

The projected buck figure is conservative, down from last year's near-record take of 86,210, while the antlerless quota rates next best to the all-time high set in 1952 when any-deer hunting was introduced on a major scale in this state.

The Department's region-by-region forecast calls for a buck kill of about 22,000 in the Upper Peninsula, 54,000 in the northern half of Lower Michigan, and a record 8,000 or more in the southern third of the state where the recent whitetail explosion is fast turning that region into a major deer hunting area.

Any Deer Areas

With some 226,000 special deer permit holders scheduled to go afield, Department preseason sights are set upon antlerless totals of nearly 18,700 in the Upper Peninsula, 42,735 in the northern Lower Peninsula, and about 2,070 in southern Michigan.

Under this year's liberalized special regulations, any-deer hunting will be extended to cover all of Menominee County above the Straits and parts of Allegan, Montcalm, Clinton, Gratiot, Saginaw, and Ingham counties in the southern farm-belt country.

On the Upper Peninsula deer hunting front, Department field men report highest whitetail numbers in Iron, Dickinson, Menominee, southern Marquette, and western Delta counties. Lake Huron's Drummond Island is listed as another good bet.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, deer populations are well distributed.

Tuesday gets its name from Tyr, Teutonic god of war, courage and the sword.

Put Clean Game In The Freezer

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Hell hath no fury like a woman whose freezer runneth over with wild game — particularly when she doesn't know how to cook the stuff and couldn't care less.

It happens every fall in troubled homes everywhere. Hubby the hunter has been out roaming the woods nearly every weekend, gathering deer, ducks, geese, pheasants, quail and even a fish or two.

It was fun. Rotten Rattlesnake But the family shuns his booty at the table as if it were a casserole of skunk and rotten rattlesnake.

"This should never happen," consoles George Seymour, supervisor of conservation education for the California Fish and Game Department.

With him it doesn't. Seymour, reared in the Ozarks where he learned to broil cottontails on a stick "with or without salt," has been cooking up California wild game for 40 years. The F&G Department considers him its chief gourmet. "My wife's an excellent cook, too," he says.

"The secret of the whole darn thing," Seymour explains, "is the handling of wild game in the field. I'm real fussy about how it's cooled and cleaned. When I bring game home, it's ready to put on the fire — I just don't dump it on the floor."

Seymour's number one rule is to properly draw and clean game as soon as possible. The smaller the species, the more quickly it should be cared for. "I would never think of leaving a duck, pheasant or quail hang overnight without gutting it," he says.

Three Rules

Once home, Seymour has three more rules: Don't marinate, don't overseason and don't overcook.

"I've always worked on the theory that just the average condiments — salt and pepper and possibly some onions and garlic — are enough if the game has been properly handled. If you put some darn barbecue sauce on it, it's not going to taste like a duck or pheasant or whatever you shot. It's going to taste like a mess. If it's just an exotic dish you want, you can concoct lots of flavors — but it won't be wild game. It makes me sick just to look at such stuff."

Seymour says the "biggest mistake," however, is overcooking. "I don't like my birds rare, but I don't like them cooked to where they're not juicy either."

Deer Meat

Another major error is in not thawing out meat adequately after pulling it from the deep freeze.

As for venison, wives will be happy to know that's "real simple."

"If you've got a bun piece of meat, you might as well find a dog and give it to him because you just can't make it good," Seymour says. "And if it is good, you just can't hardly spoil it."

"I approach deer meat the same as beef — I cook it about the same," he says. "Big game animals, though, often are lacking in fat. So you might have to add a couple of strips of bacon."

Seymour's recipe collection includes such delicacies as "beaver tail steak," "baked corn-fed coon," "leather britches beans," "jugged marshmallow," "catfish chowder" and "mother's squirrel and dumplings" — not to mention rattlesnake and skunk.

What if a person just plain doesn't like the taste of wild game?

"Then he should eat pork chops," replied Seymour.

BERRY'S WORLD

1964 Hunt Took Lives Of Ten State Hunters

Deer season opens in the Upper Peninsula on Saturday and it is expected that over one half million hunters will purchase deer hunting licenses in the state this year.

Last year, 74 firearm accidents occurred in Michigan during the deer season. Of this group, 10 were killed. This total does not include those that died from other causes.

One out of seven hunters were shot because the shooter mistook them for game. One third of the accidents were caused by shooter covering the victim when he brought his gun in position to shoot. One out of 10 accidentally shot themselves and companions while unloading or loading their gun.

It is important that hunters dress in proper colored clothing, don't fire their guns while their hunting companions are near them, and load and unload their guns while at a safe distance from car or camp and then do it while alone.

An average of one of every four gasoline filling stations fails or changes hands annually.
